REV. R. E. LAWHEAD CALLED AS PASTOR OF UPLAND CHURCH

Dr. Stone's Successor Selected By Congregation During Service Sunday

ACCEPTANCE EXPECTED

Minister, Pastor of Church in Oakland, Preached Here Recently

The Rev. Rex. E. Lawhead, pastor of the United Presbyterian church in Oakland, has been called to the pastorate of the Upland Presbyterian church, the call having been made by vote of the congregation at the church service Sunday morning.

The Rev. Mr. Lawhead's acceptance has not yet been received, but is expected in any mail. The minister recently occupied the pulpit of the local church as guest preacher and since he understood at that time that the congregation was seeking a pastor, it is believed his acceptance of the call is assured.

Dr. R. C. Stone, who will complete his twenty-fifth year as pastor of the local church next January, submitted his resignation several months ago, to become effective on Jan. 1, and since that time the church has been seeking his successor.

The Rev. Mr. Lawhead was reared a United Presbyterian and graduated from the United Presbyterian seminary in Pittsburgh, Pa. However, he at one time belonged to the Riverside Presbytery and served as minster for Presbyterian churches in Colton and Beaumont. He therefore is quite well known to Dr. Stone and is no stranger to the Upland congregation.

CITY HOPEFUL OF EUCLID PARK LINK

WPA Expected to Give Approval of Project on Parkway South of Santa Fe

In connection with an appeal delivered in Ontario last night for further publicizing of Euclid avenue's beauty, it is pointed out today that Upland officials are hopeful of getting the last link in the parkway between Upland and Ontario improved.

Charles Horrworth, Los Angeles, spoke at the Ontario chamber of commerce meeting last night concerning Euclid avenue and other West End attractions.

Filed as a WPA project is the proposed improvement of the avenue parkway extending from the Santa Fe tracks south to the Ontario city limits. Assurance has been given by WPA officials in San Bernardino that projects of this kind will get first consideration. Upland councilmen have been anticipating approval of the project.

Sowing of lawn in this strip would connect up the last unimproved portion of the parkway from Foothill boulevard to some distance south of A street in Ontario.

Chamber of commerce directors recently ordered a survey among residents on Euclid avenue just north of Foothill boulevard concerning the possibility of extending the parkway at least a short distance north of Foothill. Results of this survey might result in extension of the parkway.

ROGERS IS COMING SOON

Citrus Growers Getting Ready For Winter Season and 8 p. m. Broadcasts

There will be no change in the procedure in broadcasting weather forecasts to local citrus growers, was the report today from the U. S. weather bureau at Pomona. Due to changes being made in radio station KNX connections it was thought some change might be necessary in the nightly broadcasts through the winter season.

Broadcasts will begin Nov. 15 and will be given at 8 p. m. each night by Floyd D. Young, government meterologist.

R. J. Rogers, who annually comes here to work with the growers and who makes weather predictions, is expected to locate here for the winter season next week.

L. N. KIRK JUDGES POULTRY IN MAUI

Local Poultry Expert Returns From Four Weeks Trip To Hawaii

After an absence of four weeks, Loring N. Kirk, who has become a nationally recognized authority on poultry judging, returned Saturday on the S. S. Lurline from Hawaii, where he was called to serve as judge for the poultry show at the Maui county fair, at Wauluki, island of Maui.

Mr. Kirk spent eight days in Wauluki and was taken on numerous trips over the island, visiting the big sugar and pineapple plantations and the stock farms, which are owned principally by the Young, the Baldwin and other large American interests.

The fair he found to be more like a carnival, the exhibits being mostly agricultural, with rabbits and dogs making up most of the animal exhibits. The entertainment was good and large crowds attended, Mr. Kirk being impressed with the happy attitude of the people while at work as well as at play.

The poultry show was very good, he said. About 800 birds were entered and many of them were as good as any found at shows in the states. The poultry industry in the islands is thriving, he was told and he found eggs selling at 56c a dozen, wholesale. Feed also is high, selling at $3.50 cwt.

Mr. Kirk also spent eight days in Honolulu, where he again was hospitably entertained and shown many places of interest. The voyage each way was pleasant, he says, very little rough weather being encountered.

Capitalize On Euclid Avenue, Appeal of Horrworth As New Ontario Chamber Is Organized

With a fervent appeal for further development of Euclid avenue parkway and for an intensified publicity campaign to tell all southland visitors about the beautiful thoroughfare, Charles Horrworth, field secretary of the All-Year club, spoke in Ontario last night.

Organization meeting of the Ontario chamber of commerce was held in Hotel Ontario, 170 persons being present. Mr. Horrworth gave the organization a spirited boost when he appealed to "Ontario to make the most of its opportunity in appealing to the tourists."

He stressed the possibilities of advertising the community through spreading the fame of Euclid avenue. He said the tourist business provided a big pay roll for the community and he appealed for more considerations of the throngs that daily enter the district.

Sales organization of any community is the chamber of commerce, he said. An actvie civic group is "bound to have knockers," Mr Horrworth said, but he urged the organization to work toward its goal of making the community better, more beautiful and more prosperous.

Dr. Norman Abbott, president, presided, and under his direction the group adopted a new constitution and bylaws. An opportunity was given for signing of membership blanks. The response indicated wide interest and active participation in the civic organization. The constitution was read by Hirschel Griffin, one of the directors.

The Ontario chamber is being reorganized through efforts of a group of young business and professional men. Most of the directors—and most of the 170 persons in attendance—are under 40 years of age. First regular meeting of the board was set for Nov. 16.

Upland chamber of commerce was officially represented by the secretary. Others in attendance from Upland through their connection with the Ontario community were Alan A. Couch, E. W. Fischer, W. W. Stevens, J. H. Siegrist, Jack Newsom and Sam B. Rowe.

TELLS GOVERNOR OF RELIEF PLAN

C. E. Grier in Sacramento To Present New Proposal To State Leaders

Based on economy, home rule and justice, a proposed plan for relief in the state is today being considered by Gov. Frank Merriam, as the result of a visit in Sacramento of C. E. Grier, Upland, chairman of the county board of supervisors.

The plan presented by Mr. Grier is the one he has discussed on many occasions in the county and the one backed by 12 statewide organzations. He was in Sacramento at the invitation of the governor, who wanted the Upland man to present the proposal to the governor's council. The council includes heads of state departments.

The economy plank in the program would do away with the present dual system of handling relief. At present the SRA handles direct relief. The new program would place all relief administration on the counties under the general supervison of the state social welfare department.

It is proposed the plan will be presented to the state legislature at its meeting in January. Mr. Grier is chairman of the state wide committee working out a program.

Following the conference the governor said the present law requires dual administration but expressed the belief supervisors and the state administration 'can get together" so the counties will not have to pay more than a reasonable share for relief of indigents.

Traffic School for Chaffey Proposed

Rather than having a traffic school in Upland for local traffic violators, it is likely such a school may be held on the Chaffey campus to serve the entire district.

Earl E. Marsh, chairman of the city's safety council, said that arrangements are being made to have a traffic school at Chaffey, if it can be included in the school program.

The plan is to give all traffic violators a course in safe driving rules. Other persons could also attend.

Man Who Named Upland 92

Chas. D. Adams, Who Chose City's Name Due To Its Elevation, Observes Anniversary

Another year has passed for the man who is credited with naming Upland.

Charles D. Adams is today 92 years of age. The birthday anniversary was observed quietly last Thursday but on Sunday he was the guest of his son, Julian Adams, South Pasadena. A quiet family party was held with Egbert Adams, Los Angeles, another son, joining the group.

Mr. Adams was one of the leaders n organization of the Upland Citrus association. He selected the name of "Upland" for the association due to its location on the higher levels. The name became popular and when the city was formed almost 36 years ago, "Upland" was chosen as the name.

Mr. Adams quietly enjoys each day. He resides in his cozy home in the citrus and avocado grove on Mountain avenue at Twenty-third street.

VOTE BATTLE TO HIT CLIMAX ONE WEEK FROM TODAY

Record Vote Anticipated Here As Wide Interest Shown In Issues

PROPOSITIONS STUDIED

Details Completed for Election in All Precincts Of District

One week from today voters in the Upland district will participate in the national election and will help decide in selection of a congressman, an assemblyman, and vote on 23 proposed amendments to the state constitution.

Detailed preparations are completed today for the balloting in the precincts throughout the Upland district. Officials have been named for the various voting polls.

In addition to the presidential election, of outstanding interest here is the race for congressman and assemblyman. Sam L. Collins, Republican incumbent, and Harry R. Sheppard, Democratic nominee and Townsend candidate, will fight it out in a close race for Congress. San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange county voters will decide this election.

Either Godfrey Andreas, Democratic incumbent, or Wardwell D. Evans, Republican nominee, will represent this district in the California legislature as assemblyman.

Various propositions on the ballot are also getting much attention here. The local option measure, No. 9, is approved by local churches and a campaign is being conducted in its favor and against No. 3.

Proposition No. 22 concerns the proposed tax on chain stores and outcome of this measure is the object of a spirited campaign. Upland independent stores have united in urging "yes" on No. 22. Various chain store interests are advocating defeat of the proposal.

Other measures are also getting the special attention of various interests. The election is expected to attract the largest number of voters ever going to the polls. Voting booths will be open from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Voters here will also be given an opportunity to help in election of a county supervisor in district No. 3. J. Harry Porch, incumbent, and Will L. Fowler are the candidates. Surprise to all concerned as well as a big thrill for the parents is the arrival of twins at the San Antonio Community hospital last night to Mr. and Mrs. Lee Spring of Ontario. They are the first arrivalsto to the couple. Usually parents have names selected for their first born, but in this case the parents were so surprised they have been unable to select twin names.

Mr. Spring was formerly manager of an Ontario shoe store, having recently gone to Pomona with a store there. Their home is at 315 North Palm avenue, Ontario.

The twins are a boy, weighing 6 pounds 2 ounces, and a girl weighing 4 pounds, 11 ounces.

PROJECTS POLL BEING STARTED

Letters Going Out From City On City Hall, Park Improvement

Letters to be sent to all voters in Upland are today being prepared by city officials. The letters concern proposed municipal improvements — either construction of a city hall or development of a city park.

Gong out with the letters will be post cards on which voters are expected to indicate their preference as to which they want in the way of improvements.

Contemplated projects are based on the assumption the PWA would provide 45 per cent of the costi of the city hall or that the WPA would assist in development of a recreational park, something similar to the Fourth street park in Ontario.

The city recently sold its 20-acre lemon grove for more than $41,000. Part of this money will be used as the city's share in the improvement program.

PROGRAM REVIEWS ORGANIZATION OF ROTARY IN UPLAND

Members of Pomona Club, Daddy of Local Club, Put On Program Today

TRIBUTE PAID DECEASED

"Pat" McQuillen, Club's First President, in Charge—Early Days Told

The first days of Rotary in Upland were brought vivdly to mind today as members of the Pomona club came over and put on the program for the local organization. The program was in charge of "Pat" McQuillen, the old (bad) medicine man, who was the Upland club's first president and has been prominent in its activities, as well as those of the entire community, for many years. Also the parodies sung and applied to Rotary and Rotarians bore the "ear marks" of Mac. Getting his data from files of the Upland News, Mac gave some of the early history of the club, which was told in the characteristic style of a former editor and proprietor, W. E. Westland.

Before the program was turned over to the visiting Pomona Rotarians the club members and visitors stood a momonet in silent tribute to departed members. Among these are Harold Moore, the club's first secretary, and all others whose memories are held sacred by all members who knew and associated with them. It was also recalled that a little more than fourteen years ago the first meeting of the club was held at the same place as today's gathering—the Upland Inn. Harlow S. Wilson, who is and has been an outstanding secretary of the club for a number of years, gave an interesting account of the "maneuvers" gone through in the days preceding the actual formation of the club—the Pomona club being the "daddy" of the local club. Pomonans conspicuous in the organization of the Upland club were present today—including Will Kennedy and Dr. Forest Swearingen, past presidents of that club.

After "Pat" McQuillen turned the program over to Mr. Kennedy, who also indulged in reminniscenses of the days immediately preceding and following the granting of the charter to the Upland club. Short and interesting addresses were then given by Dr. Swearingen and A. T. Richardson of the Pomona Progress-Bulletin. Thoughts of the former concerned mostly the principles of Rotary and their application in every-day life. Fellowship and friendship were stressed, not only for their local significance but also in their world wide scope.

Mr. Richardson took for his subject, "The Great Discovery." Making an example of the courage of Columbus and his crew in their discovery of America, he applied same to Rotary and to world conditions at this time. Noting the turmoil and war existing, Mr. Richardson said "the world was not made in a day—and it cannot be remade in a day."

A number of ex-members of the club were present at today's meeting, while others invited were unable to attend. Among the latter is J. Lynward Grahame, who has been confined in a hospital for several years and whose cheerful greeting was read by Secretary Harlow Wilson.

The charter members included G. A. Hanson, L. R. Bradley, W. K Beattie, Harry B. Harlow, Harlow S. Wilson, Harold C. Moore, E. C. Mehl, O. E. Atwood, P. H. McQuillen, O. P. Brady, C. W. Lyell, J. W. Heinecke, Dr. J. B. Craig, Charles V. Barr, E. W. Paul, John D. Howe, Dr. W. H. Craig, Jr., James H. Black, Merton E. Hill, F. W. Van Natta, W. E. Westland and F. H. Manker.

The club today has a membership of nearly fifty and numbers on its roll not only Uplanders, but also men from some of the surrounding communites.

How We Get "Something for Nothing"

It is not at all unusual for campaigners for the New Deal administration to go about the state and country telling of the immense benefits of spending as an argument for the re-election of President Roosevelt.

A notable utterance of this kind came from W. G. McAdoo when he recently said to a Los Angeles audience: "And the wonderful thing about all this is that you people don't have to raise any money to pay for it. Uncle Sam, through Franklin D. Roosevelt, gave it to you!"

What a statement to come from a former Secretary of the Treasury—a man who knows well that whatever cash the government "gives" to the people that money must be paid by the people themselves—and in addition the interest charges must be added, together with an added amount for the political administration of the funds added to it.

When we get down to examining this "something for nothing" we are getting from the New Deal in our state of California we find it works out like this:

To date, the Roosevelt administration has expended for all purposes in California about $1,125,000,000. In the same three and a half years it has taken out of California in Federal taxation approximately $575,000,000. In the same period it has borrowed, over and above its revenues, approxximately $13,000,000,000, of which this state's share—the part of the debt which Californians must repay—is 4.4 per cent ,or $572,000,000. For the $1,125,000,000 which Mr. McAdoo beamingly tells us Roosevelt has "given" us, we have thus already paid and obligated ourselves to pay $1,147,000,000.

But this is only the beginning of the cost to California of this remarkable New Deal generosity. Administration spending has raised California's federal taxes to an average for the last three years of about $180,000,000; last year it was $193,188,544. This is not only for one year, it is for every year from now on—and more—until and unless there is a return to sanity in Washington. Even if there were no further increases in California's federal taxation and no more government borrowing, as there will be, four more years of Roosevelt will have cost this state altogether nearly $2,000,000,000, not counting interest on our share of the debt. If the New Deal "gives" us much more we shall be hopelessly busted. As it is, our federal tax bill has been more than doubled in three years of Roosevelt.

Not only is California being crushingly taxed for Roosevelt "benefits," but it is being unfairly taxed to make up for the deficiencies of other states. Indirect taxation in California makes up 80.2 per cent of our whole contribution to the federal treasury; the average for the country as a whole is 64.3 per cent. In other words, the hidden taxes which add to the cost of living and bear most heavily on the poor are one-third larger here than in the average state.

What else in the way of "gifts" have we of California especially to thank Roosevelt for in addition to those which he has conferred on everybody?

His reciprocity treaty with Canada has reduced by 40 per cent the income of the great soft-pine industry which is the chief support of nine California counties. His trade pacts with that and other countries have resulted in the importation, in the last six months, of $10,240,000 worth of vegetables, $9,000,000 worth of cattle, $13,500,000 worth of fish and $19,000,000 worth of fruit, all in low-priced competition with California producers. Last year 74,000,000 pounds of dairy products were imported. California poultrymen have been seriously embarrassed, some of them forced on relief, by the government's sudden withdrawal of aid after encouraging them to borrow money to buy young stock.

Do the people of this country want four more years of such Roosevelt policies—and others equally detrimental to the nation's welfare?

—o—

We believe proposition No. 4 on the November ballot should have the support of all voters of the state. This would save the beaches from tideland drilling and pollution and enable the state to have one of the finest state park and beach systems in the country—and without cost to the taxpayers. The proposition has the endorsement of hundreds of prominent citizens, organizations and newspapers who have at heart the interest of the state. Conservative estimate of the income to be derived from the provisions of this proposition is a minimum of $2,000,000 a year for twenty-five years.. The measure provides that half of this revenue be placed in the general fund to reduce taxes and that the other half be used for acquiring and maintaining state parks and beaches. The state park commission has endorsed the measure and it is pointed out that the vast number of state-owned beaches and parks its adoption will provide will gain millions of dollars of revenue from increased number of tourists attracted to the state. The best interests of the people of the state will be served if they adopt this measure.

According to the Pensacola News—a girl may wear a golf outfit when she can't play golf, a bathing suit when she can't swim, and a riding habit when she goes hiking—but when she gets on a wedding gown she means business.

All those election polls are very interesting—but judging by the difference in them it is going to take the official count before we really know the result. One thing is certain—these polls can't all be wrong.

The rising prices in stocks causes us to wonder what proportion of the fellows who "dropped their wad" under similar conditions a few short years ago are going to be caught again.

Just at present it may not be very timely—but a fire prevention sign that reads like this is really sensible: "An ounce of precaution is worth a ton of water."

Many at Program in Woman's Club House

Approximately 150 persons were in the Upland Woman's club house last night for a program presented by "The Baron," a famous radio personality, and by two speakers.

Guy Tibbits, representative of the California Chain Store association, and Col. M. Boles, a prominent lecturer, discussed proposition No. 22 on the ballot. They pointed out the inadvisability of "hidden" taxes. They highly praised the sales tax but urged against adoption of the chain store tax. The speakers pointed out that approval of the tax would result in higher cost of merchandise.

Notes of Society

Mrs. Frances Garner Becomes Bride of Lloyd Gilmore

In the presence of some 150 relatives and friends, including fellow members of the Order of Eastern Star and of the Upland school faculties, Mrs. Frances Garner and Lloyd E. Gilmore were united in marriage at 8 o'clock Saturlay evening in the Upand Methodist church.

Choice yellow chrysanthemums were used to adorn the church for the occasion, large baskets of the blossoms standing on each side of the entrance to the chancel. Completing the arrangements were four tall candelabra bearing lighted candles, two on each side of the altar.

For 20 minutes preceding the ceremony Mrs. Fannie W. Gay played a number of organ selections and for the processional she played the "Bridal Chorus" from 'Lohengrin." During the ceremony "At Dawning" was softly played and for the recessional Mrs. Gay played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

Stripped of its "WHISKERS"

PROPOSITION #22 IS A TAX ON YOU!

You must defeat it or pay it—in HIGHER PRICES ON FOOD AND OTHER NECESSITIES

There is a "joker" in Proposition 22 on your November ballot!

Called a "Retail Store License," it looks innocent enough. But stripped of its disguise, it is a Tax that will have to be passed on to you in higher prices.

It provides that chain stores selling food and other necessities will be taxed $500.00 a year for each store over nine. Individual stores will pay only $1.00 a year—or one five-hundredth as much.

BUT...

...says the U. S. Federal Trade Commission:

"If the ability to undersell, based on greater efficiency or on elimination of credit and delivery cost, is destroyed by taxation, it is the consuming public which will really pay the tax and not the chain."

BECAUSE...

...as the Harvard (University) Bureau of Business Research discovered in studying 32,998 chain stores...chain stores operate on a small profit. They eliminate middleman's profits and unnecessary in-between expenses. The savings they make by operating efficiently are passed on to you in prices 10% below the average.

Four out of five chain stores do not make enough profit to cover the tax. Thus some of them will be forced out of business—allowing their competitors to raise prices.

Surviving chains will be forced to raise their prices to pay the tax.

Either way, you will foot the bill.

Remember, this tax is admittedly not for revenue purposes. It is cleverly camouflaged subsidy for the middleman and wasteful business methods—at your expense.

If you think that chain store competition helps to keep all prices in line with your pocketbook—if you think that you already PAY ENOUGH TAXES ON FOODS AND OTHER NECESSITIES, vote NO and keep prices low.

For no matter how named...no matter how heavily disguised...22 is a tax on you...VOTE NO!

22 IS A TAX ON YOU—VOTE NO!

DEATH STOPS 90 MILE HOUR TRIP

Motorist Killed When Car Skids and Turns Over On Foothill

Death stopped an automobie reported to be going 90 miles an hour west on Foothill boulevard Saturday night.

Charles Blackburn, Los Angeles and Palm Springs, was killed instantly as his machine skidded, veered across the highway and turned over five times. The accident occurred a short distance east of Cucamonga. The machine, a large, expensive model, is believed to have been stolen in Palm Springs earlier in the day.

Blackburn was crushed when the car rolled over five times in the last 72 feet of its wild careening trip. He apparently lost control of the machine when it hit a slight indentation in the pavement. Tire marks showed the machine slid 372 feet in the south lane of the boulevard. It then veered diagonally to the north lane and skidded 180 feet. Leaving the pavement the car traveled 45 more feet and then began its five somersaults over a dstance of 72 feet.

The accident was investigated by the deputy sheriffs serving this area, Jack Brown, Cecil Myers and Ed McGready.

CHAFFEY-CITRUS GAME FIRST UNDER NEW FIELD LIGHTS

Dedication Program Friday Planned as Panthers Meet Foes

Benefiting by a longer-than-usual practice season and fired up by its own success and highly optimistic over the possibilities, Chaffey junior college eleven is today all set to help dedicate the new Chaffey athletic field.

The dedication will be impressive. The new arcs will be turned on for the first time Friday night. The Panthers will play Citrus junior college here. An elaborate program for dedication of the field is being planned.

The Panthers play like champions. If they bowl over Citrus they will be headed for the top. Before they get to the top, however, they have four other teams to defeat.

Pomona jaysee's game is already history. In a 13 to 6 victory, Chaffey displayed power and excellent team work on the Pomona field Friday night. Scoring came in the second half. Wager grabbed a Pomona pass. Thanks to his own ability as a shifty runner and to the wonderful interference given him, he evaded many Pomona players to cross the goal line.

Former Chaffey Tigers were prominent on the field. Jack Anderson, Merton Hill, Cross, Utman, Johnson and Orsborne are former Chaffey high players who distinguished themselves. It was the first league game for Hill since the championship game between Chaffey and Long Beach in the Los Angeles coliseum two years ago.

The Panthers won by playing superior ball. Statistics give Chaffey a big edge. It was a deserving win over a hard fighting Pomona team. Coach Bert Heiser had a well trained eleven on the field.

In the opening line-up were: Rothrock and Martensen, ends; Orsborne and Johnson, tackles; Lasswell and Utman, guards; T. Wallace, center; Brewer, quarterback; Cross and Hill, halfbacks, and Anderson, fullback. Substitutes included Casaletti, end; Wager, halfback; Reed, quarterback; Forst, fullback, and C. Thompson, center.

Chaffey Tigers are facing their first league game at Riverside Friday afternoon. The Tigers have greatly improved over their early season showing. It is typical of Coach Howard Mitchell's men to gain rapidly. The Tigers are far from being out of the C. B. L. title race.

Pomona college freshmen defeated the Tigers 21 to 0 Friday afternoon. Chaffey learned a lot in this game and besides it got the Tigers in a red hot frame of mind for their first league foes.

Chaffey's line is a heavy one. At guards Friday were Clair Southworth and Harold Salisbury, the two averaging more than 200 pounds each. Ramp played center. Kropf and Shiro are tackles and Pipitone and Utman, ends. Parker is quarterback; Seay and Starnes, halfbacks, and MacKall, fullback, composed the backfield.

Others playing were Bleick, Corn, Holbrook, Cummings, Orr, Seay, Wright, Kipp, Johnson, Shoji, Francis and Heinecke.

Hallowe'en Party at Camp Baldy Planned

Extensive plans are being made for a gala Halloween celebration at Curry's Camp Baldy Saturday, and featuring the return of Bob McCauley and his orchestra, who played the summer dances this year.

McCauley's orchestra will be at Camp Baldy each week end for the rest of the winter, playing in the spacious lobby and Forty-niner room in the main building for the next few week ends until the new dance hall is completed, which will be early in December.

New Pavilion for Camp Baldy Started

Work is underway today in the construction of a new dance pavilion at Camp Baldy, the new structure to replace the building destroyed by fire in the summer. A feature of the building will be a portion of the dance floor, made of glass and extending over the waters of San Antonio canyon.

Workmen will rush the structure to completion, it being the plan of Mrs. Ruth Curry Burns, manager, to have the building ready for patrons in the usual winter rush.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Selby are going to be in Upland for at least several months, they being from Iowa. Mrs. Selby is a daughter of the late Mrs. Eva Nowles. They are residing at 191 Vernon drive.

WELFARE LEAGUE PLANS FOR DANCE

Annual Benefit Event Is To Be Held Just Before Holidays

Discussion of welfare projects to be carried on during the winter occupied much of the time when members of the Upland Junior Welfare League met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. A. Aita, 840 Euclid avenue.

Mrs. Webster H. Thomas, president of the League, who recently returned from an extended visit in Alabama, was given a warm greeting when she appeared to conduct the meeting.

The members decided to continue their established project of supplying shoes for needy children and plans were made for the annual Christmas dance to be held shortly before the Christmas holidays. The proceeds from this benefit dance will be used to purchase the Christmas baskets of groceries and other articles supplied each Christmas to the needy families in the neighborhood.

Plans also were made for a luncheon to be held at Red Hill Country club on Friday, Nov. 13, the time for the regular meeting of the League, in honor of the new members who have been received this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ford have made Upland their home, coming from Rogers, Arkansas. They are residng at 235 Tenth avenue.

Fowler
—for—
SUPERVISOR THIRD DISTRICT

WILL FOWLER has accomplished two outstanding results recently in Redlands. He made substantial wage increases in the lower brackets, BUT he did NOT raise the tax rate a cent in so doing.

FOWLER is a rancher and appreciates the needs of ranchers.

WILL FOWLER'S honesty and integrity in 14 years as councilman and mayor brought him more votes in his home town than any other candidate at the primary for supervisor.

NOTICE—Will Fowler's opponent is Mr. J. Harry Porch. Recent advertising might mislead you. Mr. Porch has never received a majority of the votes cast in his own supervisorial district at any election. His own district repudiated him 4 years ago.

LET'S PUT OUR BEST MEN IN OUR OFFICES OF PUBLIC TRUST

A California Success THAT GREW OUT OF A FIVE DOLLAR BILL —let's not cripple it with unfair taxation!

George Pepperdine, President and Founder of the Western Auto Supply Company.

Hal R. Baker, first employee, who rose from errand boy to Vice-President and General Manager

S. G. Miles. In 15 years he has worked his way up to Secretary and Treasurer of the Company.

Typical Western Auto Supply Co. store. 115 of these stores in California bring savings and helpful service to your neighborhood.

Interior of typical Western Auto Supply Company store, showing merchandise conveniently arranged for your inspection.

Los Angeles main store and warehouse. Conveniently located warehouses speed distribution and help keep prices lower.

Oakland main store and warehouse—improves our service to Northern California motorists.

PROPOSITION #22 aims to do just that, because it will tax the Western Auto Supply Company stores more than $50,000.00 a year, while the service stations of chain oil companies, which sell many auto accessories including tires and batteries, in direct competition with the Western Auto Supply Company, will not be taxed at all.

Why Cripple A Concern You Built With Your Purchases?

The Western Auto Supply Company started in California more than 20 years ago with one small store and a very small capital. It had no advantages that were not available to any other business. But, because it brought to motorists of California high quality merchandise at lower prices and a helpful service which they were not getting elsewhere, this one store was patronized to the point where it became necessary, for the convenience of the motoring public, to open more stores.

In order to help carry out this program of expansion, the Western Auto Supply Company incorporated under the laws of California, and almost all of its stock was sold and is now owned by Californians. Many of these stockholders are employees of the Company. These stockholders also ask: "Why place this discriminatory tax upon the Western Auto Supply Company, which already pays its share of local, state and federal taxes, and exempt the big oil companies and other chain organizations?"

Where Is The Equality And Fairness Of Such a Tax?

Why impose this discriminatory tax upon a concern which employs in California a thousand men and women who are happy in their work, who receive higher than average pay, who get annual vacations with full pay, who receive bonuses, and a large number of whom own stock in their Company, a concern which has in its 115 California stores 115 managers who share in the profits of the business, who have been with the Company on an average of 12 years and who started either as salesmen, warehouse men or service shop men, and worked their way up to their present positions? Is it fair to require such a concern to pay for its 115 California stores a tax of more than $50,000.00 a year, while chain gasoline service stations handling many of the same lines of goods pay no tax at all?

Of course it isn't fair, and we are confident that California citizens, when correctly informed, will not permit this measure to pass.

The unfairness of Proposition #22 alone, we feel, is sufficient reason for fair-minded Californians to vote "no." But of the many other reasons that condemn this bill, there is one in particular upon which we want to throw the spotlight.

Let's Take A "Pocket-Book" View of Proposition #22

The Federal Trade Commission, in its final report on chain store investigation, came to this conclusion:

"To tax out of existence the advantages of chain stores over competitors is to tax out of existence the advantages which the consuming public have found in patronizing chain stores, with a consequent addition to the cost of living—"

"If ability to undersell, based on greater efficiency—is destroyed by taxation, it is the consuming public which will really pay the tax."

Sponsors of the bill say the $500.00 per store is only the beginning of their campaign to destroy the chain store. The next step will be to raise the tax to $2,500.00 or more per store. It is an accepted fact that because of chain store competition, all retailers have had to sell at lower prices. With chain stores forced out of business, prices will go up much more than the 10% which the government report says chains now save the public.

That's Why We Say — 22 IS A TAX ON YOU!

Vote NO — on Proposition 22 November 3rd

22 RETAIL STORE LICENSE. Referendum against Act of legislature (Chapter 849, Statutes 1935) requiring every person or organization owning, operating or controlling one or more stores, wherein merchandise is sold at retail, obtain annual state license; prescribing fifty cents application fee for each store and one dollar license fee for one store, increasing license fee progressively for second and additional stores to five hundred dollars for each store over nine; except filling stations, ice distributing establishments, restaurant facilities of common carriers, newspaper offices, stores wherein sales are incidental to rendering personal service, theatres and motion picture houses.

Time's Castles

Old Father Time will you turn for me
The bygone days—that I may be
A child once more on my mother's knee?
In the evening time let my sister, too,
With eyes of brown, that softly woo,
Come to us, saying: "I love but you,
And Mother."

And there in the deepening twilight shade
No fears shall assail, but unafraid
Our visions of castles and marts of trade
Will come, as we lean on Mother's breast—
Oh Time, let us turn from the day to rest
In the old arm-chair, at love's behest,
With Mother.
—Kay McCullough, Bartlesville, Okla.

Vision

Who sees beyond his narrow sphere
To reals that lie afar,
Can build his life to higher planes
And reach the farthest star.

No low horizon then can bind,
He looks above and out,
And sees the things all may not see,
That waiting lie about.

What e'er you will that you would have,
Make that your vision, friend;
Then put your faith in God and work,
Nor time on worry spend.

And if your faith is strong enough,
Your vision pure and high,
In God's own time will come reward,
If you believe and try.
—Elizabeth Lee Sargent

The Mocking Bird

I ruffle wide the feathers on my throat,
To chirp and trill and whistle all day long;
The people listen to me, charmed, and say:
"What lovely music"—but I copy every song!

High in my tree I warble to the sky;
Each bird in envy, sniffs, says to his mate:
"A mocker; no originality."
I just sing on—surpassing those I imitate!

Huge Monthly Sum Sought in Divorce Action in County

Helen Scott Fairbanks, Pasadena, is suing her husband, Frederick C. Fairbanks of Mission, for $3000 a month separate maintenance and she wants $1500 a month temporary alimony until the divorce is settled by the courts.

Her suit for divorce was opened yesterday in the San Bernardino county superior court, it having been filed in Los Angeles courts, but transferred here. Mr. Fairbanks, reported to be a son of the late Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks, resides on a 234-acre ranch west of Redlands.

The court session yesterday lasted 45 minutes during which time Judge Frank A. Leonard went into financial matters with the two principals. Mrs. Fairbanks testified she needs $300 a month for clothes, $310 a month for servants and $350 a month for food for herself and two servants. She said her yearly income is $6400.

Mr. Fairbanks said he had given his wife at least $1000 a month since their separation more than four years ago. He listed his gross income at $60,000 a year and his net income at $36,000.

Local Merchants in Appeal for No. 22

Much interest is being shown here in proposition No. 22 on the ballot a week from today.

Many Upland merchants have united in urging voters to approve the proposed tax on chain stores. They call attention of voters to a resolution adopted by the California State Grange at its 1935 convention, as follows:

"Whereas, mass buying as practiced by chain stores is a menace to the farmer and tends to produce a private monopoly in the distribution of food and whereas private monopoly in the distribution of food is a threat to the welfare of all people and whereas chain stores do not now pay their fair share of the tax load and at the same time take the net profit from business out of local communities and send it back to Wall street controlled financial centers in the east, destroying at the same time opportunities for our own boys and girls coming out of high schools and colleges to go into business for themselves.

"Now therefore, be it resolved that the California State Grange endorses and supports legislation to curb expansion and to regulate existing chain stores in California."

Review of Books At Local Library

Two books, one of quite recent date, are receiving considerable attention at this time. Stuart Chase has written a most exciting book, "Rich Land, Poor Land," which presents first a bird's-eye view of America before the coming of the white man—a vast continent of enormous natural wealth—and then shows it laid waste by the profligate spirit of the pioneer. In 1936 the need for national conservation becomes evident. Responsibility to future generations and the opportunity to solve unemployment through conservation work, is presented as an obligation to all Americans. A dramatic book as readable as the average novel.

"The Breakdown of Money," by Christopher Hollis, is an historical explanation. The invention of money, the national debt, German mark, the American slump, stability of Spanish price level, and even the decline in birth-rate, are all subjects covered in this interesting book. "Queen Elizabeth, on her accession, determined to check the rise in prices by substituting pure silver for the debased coins then in circulation." Marco Polo found a currency in the empire of Kubla Khan. Even in the time of Charles II trade expansion was so rapid there was room for a great increase in money without an increase in price.

Theaters, Programs For Week In Valley Given Review Here

Historical Cloth Featured At Padua Theatre

There is on exhibition in the lobby of Padua Hills theatre a scrap of cloth cut from the actual robe of a Franciscan founder of the missions of California. Much poetry and romance concerns the brown robed Friars who walked El Camino Real in the early days

Sticklers for historical fact have maintained that the Franciscans of that day wore gray robes, not brown. The piece of weaving at Padua Hills proves that both were right—the cloth, actually a brown twill weave, looks gray at a little distance.

In the interest of accuracy Maria, the weaver at Padua Hills, wove the cloth for the priest's robe in "The Shield of the Palomares," current stage production. The priest's robe is only one of the details encountered in producing "The Shield of the Palomares."

Russel Ross Is To Address Republican Women's Club Here

Russel Ross of national Republican headquarters in Chicago will address a meeting of the West End Republican Women's Study club to be held Wednesday morning at the home of the club president, Dr. Lillian F. Baxter, 1677 Euclid avenue.

Mr. Ross not only is an able speaker but also is exceptionally well informed concerning the political and economic problems of the country, and his address is expected to be of more than ordinary interest.

In announcing the meeting, which will open at 10 o'clock, Dr. Baxter extended a cordial invitation to all interested persons to attend, regardless of party affiliation, expressing the belief that "whether we are Republicans or Democrats, we are all trying to be good Americans."

During the meeting plans will be made for the club's activities during the remaining days of the campaign.

Wages, Taxes Is Big Administrative Issue

"Wages and taxes; how to keep the first up and the last down are major problems of administrative officials today," said Will L. Fowler, candidate for supervisor from the third district. "We have been fortunate on the council in Redlands that we have accomplished these objectives. Lower bracket wages have been increased nearly 15 per cent, but no increase was made in the tax rate."

Fourteen years as councilman and mayor in Redlands has given Mr. Fowler background for his supervisorial candidacy. No candidate received a majority vote in the primary, so according to the provisions of the county charter the entire county votes on the third district's candidates. Fowler's opponent is J. Harry Porch, incumbent.

The junior library also has received additional furnishings. Eight small chairs matching the eight larger ones placed there when the children's department was opened, are now ready for accommodation of the youngest patrons, the little boys and girls who are not quite comfortable in the big chairs.

Writer Discusses Parking Problems From Trade Angle

By Mrs. F. H. Manker

Imagine anyone saying in the year 1956 that it would be impossible to cross a street because of traffic conditions unless he hopped from car top to car top!

In the last issue of the American Mercury, in an article by Fletcher Pratt entitled "No Parking," the writer says that the present highway system, used by the 23,000,000 car owners now in the United States, covers a larger territory than the state of South Carolina.

"The attitude of the average carowner is that, having attained the blessed degree of prosperity at which he can afford $50 for a second-hand sedan and another $10 for license plates, he has thereby purchased from the state a squatter's right to the possession of a certain section of road room over which he may be driving, or just parking—one hour, two hours, all night or all day, or even weeks at a time.

"The overwhelming proportion of traffic congestion is caused by two classes of vehicles: trucks making deliveries and passenger cars used by office workers and shoppers; and of these two classes the last is first by an enormous margin.

"It would appear that the tin-can motorist's only juridicial right to the use of the streets is for the purpose for which they were constructed—traffic. . . . It has always been exceedingly difficult to dislodge the squatter in America without arousing loud yowls about interference with personal liberty Obviously, there is only one solution to America's foremost traffic problem: abolish all parking."

And in regard to the loss of trade in towns where no parking is in effect, the writer has this to say: "For every car that passes a store means one sale (approximately); every four pedestrians account for another sale; but it takes nearly five parked cars to produce an equal result." Stringent regulations against protracted parking in the center of the town was found to be one common characteristic of Fresno, Indianapolis, and Atlanta, in which a field research was made.

Proposition 22 is NOT a Tax on You!

You Must Protect Yourself and Family

BY a clever piece of strategy the large chain stores operating in California are attempting to shift a part of their tax burden back onto the people of California, onto YOU and me.

Last year, as you know, your state representatives, faced with the problem of raising additional money to meet the operating expenses of California, overwhelmingly voted (102 to 12) to place a tax on chain stores.

The amount of this tax ranges from less than one cent per day per store to a maximum of $1.37 per day per store. The legislature voted this tax after carefully investigating its fairness and the ability of the chain stores to pay it without injury to their business. They realized that the average citizen was already carrying a large tax burden.

Naturally, the powerful and well-organized chain store group moved fast to avoid payment. They have already avoided payment of the tax for 1936 (estimated at $3,000,000) by initiating a minority petition for a referendum, placing the issue on the already crowded November ballot.

Now the chains are out to permanently kill this tax at the polls. The hundreds of thousands of dollars they have spent in "sob story" propaganda has been but a small portion of the $3,000,000 they have already "saved" at the taxpayers' expense.

The chains have carefully refrained from mentioning that if this chain store tax is killed, the people will have to levy other taxes on themselves—perhaps higher sales taxes, income taxes, automobile tax, property tax, etc., to meet the deficit.

It is important that every voter protect himself and his family from unnecessary additional taxation by voting YES on Proposition No. 22. A YES vote will prevent the chains from shifting their share of the state's tax bill to you.

The Chain Store Tax was made a STATE LAW last year by overwhelming vote (102 to 12) of our State Legislature.

To evade payment, the Chains have referred this law to the voters, attempting to override the Legislature's decision.

The Legislature imposed this tax because (1) the State needs the revenue, and (2) the Chains CAN afford $1.37 tax per day WITHOUT RAISING PRICES.

If the Chains do not pay this tax, YOU must pay it for them by increased sales tax, higher automobile tax, etc., etc.

If you think the Chain Stores SHOULD pay their fair portion of the state's taxes . . .

VOTE YES on Proposition No. 22

MAKE CHAIN STORES PAY THEIR TAXES, TOO!
